One way of getting fed cheap. A friend a few days ago remarked she was actually fed up looking at or trying to read mimeographed recipes.

An old timer visiting The Pass last week end, called and asked where he could locate Thomas Ede. Well, we couldn't tell him, except that he died.

Sepper and Mrs. S. Harding, of Petawawa, Ontario, are spending a holiday with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rowe, in West Blairmore.

The annual Lundbreck old time St. Patrick's dance was again largely attended and much enjoyed. It is said there was close to six hundred in attendance.

LOCAL AND GENERAL ITEMS

To make porridge without burning it, don't put the oatmeal in. Advice for housewives.

Cleve Snow, of Vancouver, was in Fernie last week, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Snow.

Charles Shaw, who has resided in Edmonton for some months, has returned to Blairmore.

L. Pech, of Frank, this week purchased a large Chevrolet service truck through Crow's Nest Pass Motors.

The Russians have snared 200,000 Germans in a great pocket in the Vyasma-Rzhev area northwest of Moscow.

Gordon A. Stovel, 47, well known business man and vice-president of the publishing firm of Stovel Company Limited, died at Winnipeg on Saturday. He was a native of Winnipeg.

Mr. Watkins, of the provincial fisheries department, is in town this week and on matters connected with the proposed fish pool to be established between Frank and Blairmore, work on which will shortly commence.

A good slogan is: "Care in the kitchen cooks Hitler's goose!" It is estimated that approximately 15 per cent of food is wasted in the normal process of preparing and cooking, much of which is avoidable, even in peace time.

The general opinion in Southern Alberta is that the baz on trucks and buses in the south was not at all necessary. Our highways are as good as they were any time last year. Now, industry is hampered because someone in Edmonton looked out a window, saw wet highways and dreamt of terrible condition of roads all over the province. The Lethbridge Herald suggests that Hon. Fallows learn something from competent roads engineers of Southern Alberta.

The Dominion steel controller has ordered that all wrecked automobiles be completely dismantled and scrapped within 90 days, to provide metal for tanks, ships, munitions and other materials of war. It was warned that if wreckers do not comply with the order, or their movement of scrap is unsatisfactory, all wrecked cars will be requisitioned by the steel controller and sold to the highest bidder, and wreckers will not be permitted to retain any parts from the machines.

"Trapper" Johnson, not by any means the original, but in Nazi figures the exact duplicate thousands of times, visited Blairmore on Thursday afternoon. Mr. Johnson has for some eighteen years or more been a kind home guard at the Cross Ranch on the North Fork, and came in to attend the Old Timers' Ball on St. Patrick's night at Lundbreck. Johnson is between twenty and ninety years of age, and has accomplished more in three seconds than any man his age and pluck in Alberta. Too bad Bob Edwards isn't back here, for he could tell you the rest; but we can't locate Bob. We radioed, cabled, telegraphed and phoned both places, but he's not to be found.

HILLCREST HAPPENINGS

D. Hutchison has returned to Claresholm, where he is employed.

Corp. E. Seaman, R.C.A.F., who is stationed at Edmonton, is spending his 14-day furlough at the home of his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. J. Seaman.

Many young boys and girls of Hillcrest attended the party given in honor of Bill Spence's twenty-first birthday.

Mary Beranek returned to Lethbridge, after spending a few days at the home of her parents here.

A card table will be drawn for the physical training group on March 30th.

S. Berre was the lucky winner of an end table at a draw staged by the Catholic youth organization.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Spring is in the air. The robins have returned to us and we notice the grass greening up places. Enthusiasts are now planning for lovely gardens, and we are patiently waiting to get outside to make and clean up the litter about the yards and gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. X. C. Kaupp were Lethbridge visitors on Tuesday.

Miss Allen Rits has gone to Wynyard, Sask., where she will stay for some time.

Teddy Dionne, who has been on a two weeks' leave, returned to Vancouver on Wednesday, after visiting his mother and family here.

Bob McCabe, of the R.C.A.F., Macleod, and Murray McCabe, of Grand Forks, paid a recent visit to Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Morrison here.

Mrs. Victor Levin, of Medicine Hat, came up on Saturday to spend a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bundy.

The ladies of St. Joseph's church held a tea and sale of home cooking on Saturday afternoon. A goodly number were in attendance. The turkey was won by Frank Piazola.

C. T. F. ASKED TO HELP ENLIST THREE MILLION

The Minister of Finance and the chairman of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board have asked the Canadian Teachers' Federation to help enlist the three million women of Canada to assist in making the Price Ceiling Law effective. Guarding this law is a patriotic duty that women are particularly well qualified to perform, because they are the nation's shoppers. And the teachers' federation can be counted on to do everything in their power.

Each teacher is asked to proceed at once to make a price ceiling list, which should be made up carefully in line with the board's requirements. Specimen lists have been supplied, a sample of which may be seen at The Enterprise office.

ORGANIZE FOR WAR SALVAGE

A meeting of representatives of Coleman, Blairmore, Frank, Bellevue and Hillcrest was held in the Blairmore town hall on Wednesday afternoon, presided over by Mayor E. Williams, with R. Oakes acting as secretary.

Present were: R. D'Amico and P. McNeill, Hillcrest; R. E. Donkin, Frank; James Cousens, Bellevue; P. Abousaif, Coleman; C. J. Tompkins, W. J. Bartlett, S. Knappman, R. Oakes and E. Williams, Blairmore.

Purpose of the meeting was to form committees and to organize for the war salvage drive, which will get under way in a few days. On motion it was decided to name the committee "The Crow's Nest Pass War Salvage Committee." The following were appointed to the general executive, with power to add to their number: Blairmore—E. Williams and R. Oakes.

Hillcrest—P. McNeill and G. E. Cruickshank.

Frank—R. E. Donkin and W. Drake.

Bellevue—J. Cousens and M. D. McCoshen.

Coleman—Mayor Antrobus and F. Abousaif.

Finance Committee: Mayor Williams and Mayor Antrobus.

It is planned to first go after metals and rubber, of which it is believed several carloads can be collected in the district. Later, collection of rags, paper, etc., will be given consideration.

Anyone interested are asked to use any of the following phones: Blairmore 11, Coleman 209, Frank 185, Hillcrest 61, Bellevue 12m. Each of the five towns will be responsible for their own collection.

Alex. Balloch, W. J. Bartlett and O. A. Botter were appointed publicity committee.

S. Knappman was appointed supervisor, particularly for metals.

The campaign is being endorsed by the L.O.D.E. and Red Cross.

A further meeting will be held at the same place on Wednesday afternoon next at 1.30, when more definite plans will be submitted.

H. C. TRIEST, OF LUNDBRECK, WAS A VISITOR TO BLAIRMORE YESTERDAY.

The Pincher Creek Fish and Game Association was organized on Thursday evening last with the following officers: S. Walker, president; C. S. Buchanan, vice-president; J. Milne, secretary-treasurer; V. Burns, C. Kumble and J. Killy, fish committee; C. S. Buchanan, H. Simpson and F. Frey, game birds committee; F. H. Riggall and M. M. Dilatash, game committee. One of the most important projects the association will support will be the establishment of a fingerling pool or rearing pond. Meetings will be held on the third Monday of each month.

ST. PATRICK'S CONCERTS ARE MUCH ENJOYED

The annual concerts of St. Anne's church, staged at the Columbus hall on St. Patrick's night and the night following, proved to be the best all round attempt yet by local talent.

The hall on Tuesday night was well filled, and the excellent work throughout by youngsters and grownups brought forth great applause. "Hen-pecked Henry" did his part well, no doubt benefitted by some local experience. Others in the cast did well, including Henry Galvon, Margaret Yanota, Helen Pozzi, Anne Kubie, Charlie Amatto, Rices Fungall and Anne Margatak. The play appeared in a prologue and three acts.

Between acts, twelve Brownies appeared in a "Ghosts' Deity" and "Kitty of Coleraine" was well staged by fourteen girls. At the conclusion of each night's programme "Carry On, Canada" and "God Save The King" were sung.

PAPER SALVAGE

We are being called upon by the government to save paper. We believe that the time has arrived when the government should do something to stop paper wastage.

Last week we received the Y.M.C.A. news of the month. It was made up of 8 sheets of paper, 8 1/2 x 14, printed only on one side, all double spaced.

The full text could easily have been printed on two sheets of paper and made very readable. No doubt this monthly report goes out to a few thousand different offices. Here's a practical way to save paper.

We mention the Y.M.C.A. paper because it was the one that came to hand while the matter of salvage of paper was being discussed.

The Y.M.C.A. is not the only offender. There are a number of Dominion and Provincial departments that still send out their printed matter printed on one side only and set double space.

Let's have some immediate action. The public want to co-operate, but they would also like to see our governments and big war organizations setting an example.

We will not stop gathering paper, but we would have a considerable amount less to gather if these organizations would start conserving in their home offices.—Innisfail Province.

Wenzel Cisar, 60, of Beaver Mines, passed away at Pincher Creek on Sunday after a lingering illness. He was a native of Czechoslovakia.

COMING UP FOR PRELIMINARY HEARING ON WEDNESDAY, JOE VEXLER WAS RECOMMENDED TO THE NEXT SITTING OF THE HIGHER COURT AT MACLEOD TO FACE A MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE IN CONNECTION WITH THE DEATH OF JULIA MAYERCHAK AT COLEMAN ON MARCH 4TH.

L.O.D.E. WAR WORK REPORT

The annual report of Crow's Nest Chapter of the L.O.D.E. shows that a great deal of war work was done during the year 1941.

The executive and members sincerely appreciate the support given them, and wish to thank all those who helped them in the work, particularly the knitting group; the B.E.S.L. for their very generous donation to the Christmas parcels for the boys overseas; the ladies of the Red Cross for their donation towards the Christmas Cheer fund for the local boys in the armed forces; those who gave so readily to the tag-day; those who bought gift parcels of new clothing and quilts for the bombed-out areas of Britain and books for camp libraries; also to the party who donated the beautiful punch-work cushions.

The amount raised for war work was $989.28, and of that $837.59 was spent. There were four boxes of new clothing, including quilts, sent to the bombed-out areas; also 69 good used books for the camp libraries. Wool was purchased and 241 pairs of socks, 116 sweaters, 35 scarves, 14 helmets and 24 pairs of mitts were knitted. Materials were also purchased for baby layettes and mothers' clothing for the bombed areas. Donations were made to the War Services films, camp libraries, recreation centers and Milk for Britain. There were 142 parcels sent to "local" boys, including 28 overseas. In the spring the parcels sent overseas contained 2 pairs socks and a sweater, while those at Christmas contained one fruit cake, half pound butter, half pound cheese, tin of coffee, sugar and milk, tin of pork, tin of cookies, two packets cigarettes, package tobacco and paper, shaving cream and blades, shoe polish, two hankies, two chocolate bars, two gum, loose candy, tooth paste and pair of socks. The following names received them: Army—Ronald MacDonald, Jim Zimec, Arthur Morris, W. Knight, J. Robach, John McDonald, Alex. Patterson, Harry Lord, Walter Lord, Albert Chappell, James Montalbetti, Charlie Harner, Andy Dobrek, Jack Pratt, Edgar Rhys, Ernest Rhys, Roland Marchant, Jack Kerr, J. W. Patterson, Pat Shannon, J. Glimar, J. Mottl, W. Robbins, R. Steiner, J. J. Patterson, Bob Harner, Walker Perry, Tommy Grant, Joe Stella, Mark Harrison and J. Pinel; Air Force—Alex. Blais, Revie Walker, Douglas Wilson and Robert Erickson; Navy—Douglas Lord, D. Smith, William Archer and J. Petrik.

The Chapter gave every local boy on joining the active forces a sweater and pair of socks. Boys who were still in Canada also received parcels at Christmas time. They are: Army—C. B. Howe, G. Patterson, J. Baird, P. Marcoli, At-Mark, L. Peters, G. Pinatti, P. Rhys, J. Stewart, W. Stewart, J. Perozak, C. Germaine and A. Blake; Air Force—Alex. McDowell, C. Smith, A. Crowder, M. Thorpe, Donald Gillis, Andy Huchala, M. Docherty, C. Pifford, Bob Bannan, J. Schlosser, Eddie Arrol, D. Allen, J. Allen, B. Allen, J. Morgan, A. May, E. Silverhorn, L. Biegan, A. Davis, A. Linn, J. Yanota, C. Andrews, S. Comfort, H. Powell, H. Moresney, G. Uhren, J. W. Howe and Norman Oliver.

Last year the Chapter was asked to look after some boy in the Navy, and Douglas Lord, being the first boy from Blairmore to enlist, was selected by the Chapter. On leaving, after his furlough, a special gift was handed him from the Chapter.

The executive and members thank everyone, and trust that the same co-operation and support will again be given this year by their friends and organizations.—On behalf of the War Work Committee, Mrs. J. Patterson.

Spoils The Flavor

Tea Is Better Without Sugar According To Official Taster

C. J. Brown, official tea taster in the department of national revenue, who passes approval on the hundreds of tons of tea bought annually for the fighting services, gives this advice: "Don't put sugar in your tea if you want to enjoy its real flavor."

Besides making the tea taste better, 32,000 tons of sugar would be saved for other purposes if two out of three people who use sugar stop doing so, he added. 2455

Farm Land Values Finished Ahead Of Time

A Slight Increase Is Shown For Most Provinces

Higher farm land values for Canada as a whole, and for most provinces, are indicated in the 1941 estimates, says an official report. The average value of occupied farm lands in Canada increased from $24 to $25 per acre. Increases occurred in the three Maritime Provinces, Quebec, Manitoba, and British Columbia. There was no change in Alberta but a decline of $1 per acre was reported from both Ontario and Saskatchewan. The Dominion average, while higher than 1940, is still much below the values reported prior to 1929 when values ranged from $37 to $40 per acre.

JESUS THE MESSIAH FORE-TELLS HIS DEATH

Golden Text: For whosoever would save his life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's shall save it. Mark 8:35.

Explanations and Comments

Jesus Is the Messiah, Mark 8:27-30. To escape the crowds and have an undisturbed opportunity to teach his disciples Jesus went northward with them into the neighborhood of Caesarea Philippi. On the way he turned to them and asked, "Who do men say that I am?" Before asking this question he had spent some time in prayer according to Luke's account, which would indicate how vitally important he regarded this conversation with them.

John the Baptist, Elijah, one of the prophets, these were the men whom the people called Jesus the disciples told him. The remarkable thing about what men thought of Jesus is that they found no one living great enough to whom they could compare him.

"But who say ye that I am?" Jesus next questioned. It was "not the opinion of the crowd, but that of the group of his followers that mattered supremely to Jesus, for he had failed with them, he had utterly failed in his mission. He was depending upon them to carry on his work. But he had not failed, for Peter, as spokesman for the group, answered with conviction, "Thou art the Christ." "Christ" is a translation of a Greek word and "Messiah" is a translation of a Hebrew word, both of which mean "The Anointed." Hebrew kings were anointed with oil when they began their kingdom, and the Spiritual King was thought of as The Anointed, the Chosen One of God. Until The Anointed, the Christ, became the name by which Jesus was designated.

The Messiah Must Be Put to Death, Mark 8:31-33. In the mind of Jesus the Messiahship involved the cross, and he began to impart this thought to his disciples. The Son of man must suffer many things; "it was necessary arising out of the very essence of things, something bound up in the warp and woof of his work. His messianism was the message of the Kingdom, but he knew that the Kingdom would never come by talking about it or describing it only. The Kingdom meant the cross. Jesus knew that dreams come true only when men will die for them, and that his dream for humanity meant the cross, the tomb, and the triumph of the Risen Life."

All this Jesus told the disciples plainly, in a way that it was impossible to misunderstand. He had spoken of this in veiled language before this (Mt. 9:13; 12:40; Jn. 2:18-22; 3:14; 6:51), but this was the first announcement in plain words of the inevitableness of the cross.

TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST

HEALTH IN INDUSTRY

The maintenance of health in industry, particularly war industry, was the theme of a three-day post-graduate medical course, given at the University of Toronto, recently.

The course, which was open to medical graduates, particularly industrial physicians, was the first of its kind ever given here. It followed by nearly three months a special course for industrial nurses given by the School of Nursing.

Dr. J. G. Cunningham, director of the Division of Industrial Hygiene, Ontario Department of Health, said the course was of special concern because it studied the major causes of lost time in industry.

Among the major causes are respiratory, gastro-intestinal, heart and ailments affecting the blood vessels and skin diseases. According to Dr. Cunningham, the course for nurses was particularly successful. There are five full-time industrial physicians in Ontario and 45 who are associated directly with industries on a retainer-part-time basis. There are also many physicians who are on call by firms for service in accident treatment.

Lectures in the course dealt with health supervision in industry, with accidental wounds, injuries and burns and the control and management of sickness among industrial workers.

Father Of Quaint Refused Extra Gas Under Rationing Plan

Olivia Dionne, father of the quintuplets, is going to get just the same amount of gasoline as any other driver-for-pleasure motorist when rationing becomes effective April 1. Mr. Dionne applied for inclusion in category "C" under rationing regulations on the ground that, as quintuplets' guardian, he should be classed as a government official.

But, it was learned at Ottawa, that he is regarded as being in class "A," entitled from 300 to 350 gallons of gasoline a year.

CHAPTER XIII.

"Can you tell me, please," a deep voice came from the big four-posted bed, "is this Heaven?" Christopher Sande made a movement as though to sit up, but reconsidering, sank back to the white pillow.

"Feeling better?" Tamar asked softly. "Sorry to disappoint you, sir, but you're still in George."

Sande touched the bandage about his head, being careful not to disturb the position of his right shoulder. "There was a loud crashing noise, and that's all I remember."

"It's just as well. That was late yesterday afternoon."

Sande had slept drowsily during the night, moaning in his half-unconscious state. Knox Randolph had spent most of the night sitting in the chair which she now occupied.

"I'm putting you to a lot of trouble. Am I going to live?" he grinned. "Now don't keep anything from me!"

"Tamar said, 'You'll be back at the Cricket Hill before this time next week. Dr. Forrester said. Lie still, now. Can you eat a little breakfast?'"

"Well—no. I hardly think so. But never mind, I'll make up for it later. His eyes roved over the room. It was a pretty place, but a little feminine for the occupancy of a rough engineer, like himself, he thought with humor.

The next three days he was kept to his bed by Dr. Forrester. Tamar read to him.

Their conversation touched on many subjects and Tamar felt that she had known him for years. The fourth day Aristotele and Phoebe helped him downstairs to the little breakfast room where Tamar found him when she came down.

"She saw the newspaper propped up in front of the host's chair and thinking it was her father, she said: 'You're late this morning, aren't you?'"

"The paper moved. 'Better late than never!'"

Tamar laughed. "How did you ever get down those stairs by yourself?"

"Phoebe and her attending helped me. Aristotele pulled and Phoebe pushed. We made it just before I collapsed." He grinned at her engagingly. "As a matter of fact, I feel disgustingly healthy this morning. I'm afraid I'll have to go back to work."

"It's too bad!" She touched the little silver bell at her place.

Phoebe came in with a tray of frosted orange juice in tall glasses. Tamar sat across the small table from Christopher, her eyes studying his face. The swelling had receded from his brow, but his right arm was still in its sling.

Christopher saw the tiny blue-veined tracery about her temples, noticed with pleasure the softness of her white hands. Her black hair lay in small curls about her forehead, flaunting the efforts of her brush.

And she was in white again. Another white linen dress. For the first time in his life, Christopher Sande had been conscious of a girl's wearing apparel.

Tamar wore blue occasionally, but she was loveliest in white. A row of blue wooden buttons marched down the front of the dress, and her eyes beneath the black lashes reflected their blueness.

The small hands moved quickly with the covered samovar. She poured amber-colored coffee, served golden toast and perfectly poached eggs.

"Phoebe is a marvel," Sande sighed. "My stay here has completely disrupted my morale. I don't want to leave. Do I have to?"

Tamar's lashes swept down over eyes that must have leaped. "Do you have to go?" she repeated his question, this time for his answer.

"Why not stay on at Shadowell?" "I'd never get anything done at Cricket Hill! Much as I'd like to live here the rest—" he broke off, quickly. "What's the news from the mine, Tamar?"

"Every thing is running smoothly. Of course, the major is anxious for my stay here to be completed as quickly as possible."

After breakfast they strolled out to the terrace. Here a big green-striped umbrella shaded white chairs and a small round table. Tamar had handed him a cane in the hallway, and he leaned against her arm.

Tamar helped him into the chair and picked up a magazine. "This has all of the latest world news condensed into quick reading. This is the first copy. It came while you were in bed. I'll run up and make Mother comfortable and be back down in a minute."

As Tamar hurried up the stairs, the telephone rang. "I'll take it up here," she called down to Phoebe who stirred in the kitchen hall.

"May I come out tonight?" "Tonight, Ranny?"

"Yes, tonight, Tamar," he repeated. "May I?"

"Of course. Come right on from your office. And we'll have dinner."

"I can't quite make it that early, but I'll be over for dinner."

Tamar walked slowly into her room. She sat down on the edge of her bed. Ranny would choose to-night. And there were so few evenings left when she could have Christopher Sande all to herself. Even now, she had to divide his time with her father; and yes, even Phoebe and Aristotele who had become his willing slave.

Of course, Ranny knew that Christopher was here. She made a sharp movement and sat up stiffly. That's why he hasn't called this week! And she reminded herself that she hadn't even missed him.

Days without Hansome Todd calling at Shadowell. The thing was incredible. Tamar recalled the last time she had seen him. He had acted downright hateful! She told herself, using one of Phoebe's favorite expressions.

She rose and went into her mother's room. "Mother, I've not meant to neglect you!" she murmured to Marie Randolph.

"Phoebe indicated there were goings-on between you and that young engineer, Tamar. She thinks you're on the verge of a big romance. Is there anything to it?" Marie was not just sure that she wanted a romance between Christopher Sande and her lovely daughter. Love could be so cruelly misplaced if it were not properly guided into the right channels.

Tamar's voice said breathlessly: "Phoebe has her head in the clouds most of the time. I can't see how she ever misses a recipe, without having most of the ingredients missing."

"I'm going to fix a seat for you outside and Dad can carry you down for a sunbath this morning."

Marie wondered if Tamar had seen the gradual change in her or if by the very fact that she saw her almost hourly that there had been no visible change.

Quickly Marie sought to keep her mind from the subject. "Did Phoebe give you a good breakfast? And how is Mr. Sande this morning?"

"He's reading the new magazine out on the lawn, and he ate a hearty breakfast, as though he'd been riding to hounds—or—" her voice trailed off. She remembered Red jacketed men on splendid horses, the baying of hounds, the sound of a horn, hooves, flying. What horses! The flashing color of sleeky coated animals. Long-legged symmetry, deep chested, long-bodied speed kings, proudly lifting their noble heads to strain forward in powerful drive.

The hunt breakfast! Tamar knew that her own memories were heavily spiced with old Grant's tales of the earlier days in the Big House.

Marie Randolph knew what chain of associations her daughter's broken sentence had brought. Tamar had rekindled the love of the old, in the Big House, and had often declared that she was the physical embodiment of that first Tamar Randolph.

"C'ose you is, honey. De conjure man say dat in de third generation dey returns to de livin'."

"What kind of conjure man was that, Aunt Phoebe?" Ranny would ask skeptically.

"New mind, honey," Phoebe would say to Tamar. "Dem as is undie, believe'n ain't no chance 't know 'bout sech."

Well, Marie thought ruefully, Tamar was a convert to Phoebe's teachings. She certainly was not an "undieable" lever. It had worried her for a long time, but Knox had said to let her alone with her imagination. They couldn't hurt her if they were properly anchored with practical activities!

Tamar plumped up the pillows: "Shall I tune in the radio for your serial story?" Her fingers moved about the dial of the small radio.

"Ranny is coming to dinner," she said. Her eyes on the numbers. "I really wish he wouldn't tonight."

Marie caught the glimpse of two small frowns between the straight black brows. Signal of disturbance in Tamar's thoughts.

"Oh, it should be a very pleasant occasion. Why don't you call Selby, darling, and ask her in, too. That would make a nice foursome."

"Mother! You really are a what!" Tamar gasped at the suggestion.

"What?"

"A word meaning marvel. A sage, a mastermind, an unraveler of chaos. A smoother-over, a Mr. Fix-it... a well, simply a what!"

Tamar was laughing now, and leaning over, kissed her mother quickly, and squeezed her slender hands. "I'll call Selby. She'll be delighted."

And Selby was delighted. "You dear! Tami! Of course I'll come. Imagine my getting to spend the whole evening with Christopher!"

Tamar stared glumly at the telephone. That wasn't the idea at all, she told its indifference.

Outpost Hospital

Report of Saskatchewan Red Cross Outpost Hospital Service For 1941

Since the opening of the War no attempt has been made to extend this service. There are nine Red Cross outposts operating in the province, and the duty has been to keep units already organized as high a standard of efficiency as possible.

The outpost hospital work accomplished during 1941 covers the nursing care of 1,450 new adult cases and 391 infants in hospital, requiring a total of 18,379 hospital days.

Additional nursing care was given in 353 homes by nursing visits to district homes by the outpost staffs. These visits were in answer to calls, or to follow-up service after discharge from active care in the outposts.

The large number of 1,827 persons were given care at the outposts for accidents and slight illnesses not requiring admission as in-patients.

The three classes of cases comprise a total of 4,050 persons of the nine outpost hospital communities who received nursing services at the hands of Red Cross nurses in Saskatchewan during 1941, for which department of Red Cross activity was designed and has been continued through its twenty-second year.

The kingdom of Bhutan, which lies on the southern slope of the Himalaya mountains, in Asia, exports horses principally.

CHEST COLD MISERY

FIRST—rub throat, chest, and back with VapoRub at bedtime.

THEN—spread a thick layer of VapoRub on the chest and cover with a warm cloth.

NEAREST MORN'G, VapoRub goes to work—loosens phlegm—eases muscular soreness or tightness—relieves coughing. Brings wonderful comfort and invites refreshing restful sleep.

Women Prove Efficient

Have Been Trained For Productive Machine Work in T.C.A.

Showing the efficiency and efficiency around, the intricate mechanics of an airplane motor as they do around the kitchens of their own homes, women are becoming more and more in evidence at the Trans-Canada Airlines maintenance and overhaul base in Winnipeg these days. A report of the personnel reveals that one-seventh of the employees at T.C.A. are women.

To-day women, as well as men, are needed to keep planes flying. "Training women for the productive machine work in T.C.A. was a radical development, but it has proved worthwhile," declared James T. Bain, superintendent of T.C.A. maintenance and overhaul department.

Women are especially more efficient in repetitive work than men, the superintendent added. His authorities state that not only have the women workers brought efficiency and industry with them, but have raised the morale of the shop considerably.

Women were to make a tour of inspection in the plant yesterday Mrs. May MacMaster, an employee of 11 months, adjusting and calibrating a revolution indicator. Her work with delicate instruments is exacting. So keen is she about her work that she declares she'll never go back to office work.

An instrument tester is Miss Maxine Dixon, who is fascinated with the delicacy and precision of the instrument with which she works. A large proportion of the instruments are produced in this plant for the R.C.A.P. Miss Dixon works with extreme patience, aware that pilots depend upon her for keeping their instruments right for safe flying. If you think heavy and dirty work faze girls you're wrong. Take the accessory shop for instance. It's dirty and the work is heavy, but to Miss Mary Gostak, who is an ignition harness expert, it's fascinating.

Axis Intrigues

Aimed At Stirring Up Revolt In India, It Is Said

Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek's recent visit to Khyber Pass and his address to warlike northwestern frontier tribesmen may help to offset Axis intrigues aimed at stirring up revolt at India's back door, well-qualified observers said.

Private advices reaching London indicate that since the outbreak of war Axis agents have been working among frontier tribes, supplying them with light war equipment, including field wireless stations and machine guns.

Magnanimous, however, have been reports of activities by Japanese agents who were said to be urging revolt among disgruntled politicians in Kabul, with promises that Afghanistan would receive portions of British Babuchistan and an outlet to the Arabian Sea.

Good Advice

In the grammar lesson one day, the teacher wrote down on the blackboard:

"I didn't have no fun at the seaside."

She then turned round to her pupils and said to one: "Roland, how should I correct that?"

"Get a boy friend," he told her.

Gardening

From practically any way you look at it, gardening should prove an excellent investment this year. It is patriotic to grow more vegetables now, to put idle land into use, and it is good, sound common sense, too. Vegetables have been getting more and more expensive in recent weeks and the authorities hold out no hope of bargains this summer either.

Weather was only partly to blame for the scarcity last fall. The main reason was the increased demand. In the last year Canada has added something like a million workers to its army of war employed, and still more workers are going to be added in the months ahead. All these people are going to need extra food and fresh vegetables will play a big part in filling their requirements.

And gardening offers another advantage. It is one of the best health tonics the doctor could order. A few hours among growing flowers and vegetables will work wonders in restoring sanity and balance during these trying times of war.

No Shortages. The war has interfered with a lot of things in Canada, and while gardening is no exception, this interference will be hardly noticed by the average person who orders flowers and vegetable seeds this spring. Before the war a considerable amount of the garden seed used in Canada was imported from Denmark, Holland and Hungary. This is completely cut off, of course, as well as practically all shipments from Great Britain.

To meet the usual demand, however, supplies have been developed in Canada and also a wider range has been imported from the United States. Seedsmen report no serious shortages. There is likely to be a little change in price but they suggest ordering early, especially where a wide range of varieties and types are wanted.

Biggest Crops. Vegetables are the biggest yielding crop one can grow. Not only can most lines be grown close together but with some things like lettuce and carrots, for instance, a second crop can be harvested in a single season.

Small vegetables like lettuce, spinach, carrots and radish require rows only from 15 to 18 inches apart. Beets, beans and peas need from 18 to 20 inches between rows, while potatoes, corn and stalked tomatoes must have a couple of feet to 30 inches. Space and time counts here, these if something quick-maturing such as lettuce and spinach are planted in between.

The bigger things will not need the full row at first and by the time they do, the early crops will be out of the way. Where one is using a horse, tractor or a wheel hoe, of course greater space between the rows will be needed.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

TRUTH

Truth is the gravitation principle of the universe, by which it is supported, and in which it inheres—Everts.

Truth and love are two of the most powerful things in the world; and when they both go together they cannot easily be withstood—Cudworth.

Error always addresses the passions, and prejudices: truth attacks such mean intrigue, and only addresses the understanding and the conscience—Azel Backus.

In the desolation of human understanding, divine Love hears and answers the human call for help; and the voice of Truth utters the divinities of being which deliver mortals out of the depths of ignorance and misery—Mary Baker Eddy.

Of all duties, the love of truth, with faith and constancy in it, ranks first and highest. To love God and to love truth are one and the same—Silvio Pellico.

Religious truth, touch what points of it you will, has always to do with the being and government of God, and is, of course, immutable in its reach—Hitchcock.

A Proper Diet

Nutritionist Tells How To Live To Be 150 Years Old

You can live to be 150 years old, you eat right, according to Dr. Flora Rose, retired dean of the Cornell University home economics department. The 150-year life span can all be enjoyed with vigorous health, too, she said, if the proper diet is followed.

"Nutrition is the key to a life in which one may enjoy the maturity of experience with youthful vigor," she declared.

Dr. Rose's dietary chart to longevity and good health includes consumption of a pint of milk daily, two vegetables, one green and the other yellow and raw; two fruits, one a citrus; and plenty of whole grain bread. Vitamin concentrates were recommended for persons who lead sedentary lives.

Plenty Of Peppers

There seems to be plenty of pepper for two or three years' consumption. Canada is said to have sufficient for at least a year and United States buyers bought heavily from the Dutch East Indies prior to the war.

It is said to last them about three years. But on account of extra storage and other costs some spice prices have been advancing across the line.

Grin And Bear It

With many of the country's dentists in military service, toothaches are becoming widespread in Germany. The Koelnische Zeitung of Cologne reported "there simply are not enough dentists." The paper urged the people to be patient, to console themselves only "when the pain becomes too great or chewing is impaired seriously."

Machine-gunning a pilot who has bailed out of a crippled warplane is generally considered a highly reprehensible practice. So it occasions no surprise to learn that the Japanese are doing it.

TIME TO WISE UP

Why is it that Canada and the U.S. A. still keep up diplomatic relations with Vichy France, a snake-in-the-grass which will eventually do us plenty of dirt. Vichy has been aiding the Axis in Libya for some time. The Nazi press boasted that "the French fleet was in battle trim, ready for any eventuality." It is quite evident that the Vichy boys are no friends of the United Nations and it's time that we recognized that fact instead of pussyfooting around until they jump on our neck like the Japs did. We feel that if the order was given to go with the Nazis most of the French seamen would mutiny or favor the Allies. But for land's sake, don't keep on sending supplies to the Vichy French to shoot back at our army, navy and air force. Especially so when we are still trying to save the odd daily paper and teakettle in a salvage campaign.—The Shaunavon Standard.

IS NOVA SCOTIA SAFE?

The editor of the Bridgewater Bulletin has the following to say of the precarious position Nova Scotia is in with respect to possible invasion by enemy submarines:

It is pretty generally known that enemy under-sea craft are near the shores of Nova Scotia. We also know that the men of the Canadian Navy are, day and night, on the search for the unwelcome visitors. We are not told to what extent they are destroyed. And notwithstanding all that are accounted for, there are others continually showing up and getting in their deadly work. What is to hinder the U-boats getting in some damaging work at Chester, Mahone Bay, and all along our South Shore coasts? And when the ice goes out of the LaHave river is there anything to hinder a visit from such invasion right here in Bridgewater? Has anyone given this thing any consideration? Should something be done about it or shall we drift along complacently until damage has been done? At the rate invasion is being carried on elsewhere it may not be long until we shall have to defend ourselves. With what? All are getting so near the front line in Nova Scotia that it would set our minds at ease if it were known that our protection is not being forgotten.

A man can be fined for having liquor in any place but his home. Now, a clever legal light has conceived a new one, and hopes to successfully defend his client. He asks: "Is a man's stomach when he's on the street at home?"

W. E. Sharp, present proprietor-editor of the Standard at Shaunavon, Saskatchewan, was at one time well known in the East Kootenay, where he remembers the old Fernie Ledge and the Michel Nightcap, plus Lowry's Greenwood Ledge. He says: "Lowry was some guy."

More than 3,500,000 free cigarettes were distributed to Canadian soldiers and airmen in England by the Canadian Y.M.C.A. in the month of December. ## SEES WAR'S END THIS YEAR

Why the war should come to an end this year is outlined in figures submitted by a reader of the Winnipeg Free Press. He works it out like this:

Hitler was born in 1889, came to power in 1933, spent 9 years in power and attained the age of 53 this year. Add up these figures and they total 3884.

Mussolini was born in 1883, came to power in 1922, spent 20 years in power and this year became 59. Again these figures total 3884.

Stalin was born in 1879, came to power in 1924, had 18 years in power and was 63 years old this year. It works out to 3884.

Churchill was born in 1873, came to power in 1940, has been in power 2 years and observes his 69th birthday this year. That adds up to 3884.

Roosevelt was born in 1882, came to power in 1933, has had 9 years in power and this year became 60, for a total of 3884.

"To wage war, there must be two opposing factions, so if the figure is divided by two, the result is 1942. That should be the year the war ends," the correspondent claims.

All these things are going into the salvage heap now, destined to Hitler and his associates in crime: magazines of all descriptions, old newspapers, catalogues; songs such as "Do it now," "So, fare thee well," "The parting," "Goodbye sweetheart, goodbye," "I hear you calling me," "From thee, Eliza," "Goodbye, Dolly, I must leave you," "Gipsy's farewell," "Because," etc. The re-cho will no doubt result in something even better.

According to an Ottawa correspondent, the federal government's attitude toward "contributed" and "normal" advertising appropriations is under consideration. If present plans are approved, advertisers will no longer be permitted to spend an additional ten per cent of their 1936-39 average appropriations for "contributed" advertising and receive an income tax credit for that amount. The reason given is that the use of this sort of advertising, specially arranged in connection with the recent war loan campaign, has expanded far beyond what was originally anticipated. Present intention is to eliminate this type of tax credit entirely—no matter to what extent the advertising is used in furthering, either directly or indirectly, the war effort. It is now intended to place a rigid control over all advertising appropriations, so far as income tax regulations are concerned, and to apply the general yardstick of average appropriations in the period 1930-1939 against all advertising expenditure.

Every dollar you save means more labour and materials freed for making the war goods so urgently needed.

These savings, lent to the country in the purchase of War Savings Certificates or Victory Loan Bonds—lent to intensify Canada's war effort—will bring victory—and peace—nearer.

Lieut.-Gen. McNaughton Inspects C.P.R. 7

THE stepped-up tempo of tank production at Angus Shops, Montreal, was evident everywhere when Lieut.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton made a detailed inspection of the big Canadian Pacific plant, whose machinery is turning out increasing numbers of medium weight "Valentines" for the armed forces.

Accompanied by ranking officials of the Canadian Army and senior officers of the Canadian Pacific Railway, Canada's No. 1 soldier received a first hand picture of tank construction from the smallest parts to the finished product. He displayed keen interest in the construction of the speedy war machines, a type that has been highly praised by the Russians on the field of battle.

Highlight of General McNaughton's visit followed the shops inspection when six of the khaki-painted "Valentine" tanks, fresh from the Angus shops assembly line, raced out on the shops Midway, where they wheeled, plunged, and went through various other tactics to show their manoeuvrability.

Above scene shows a group of Angus-built tanks awaiting shipment for "active service". Lieut.-Gen. McNaughton comments on some detail of tank construction. Others in the group include (left to right) H. B. Bowen, chief of motive power and rolling stock; Brig.-Gen. E. de B. Fane, Officer Commanding, M.D. 4; J. H. Berry, director general of automobile and tank production; Lieut.-Gen. Kenneth Stuart, chief of the Canadian General Staff; D. C. Coleman, vice-president, Canadian Pacific Railway.

Guests at the Cosmopolitan hotel this week end include Mr. and Mrs. Crozier, of Richfield, Alberta, old friends of "The Pioneer," Jim Smith.

Mr. Loder, of the Harry Loder Company, Edmonton, accompanied his traveller through this district during the week and was a caller at our office.

"All eight back there?" called the conductor from the front of the car. "Hold on!" came a feminine voice. "Wait till I get my clothes on."

The entire car of passengers turned and craned their necks expectantly. A girl got on with a basket of laundry.

Space to house a Red Cross blood-processing plant will be made available in the Alberta University buildings. Technical supervision of the plant and its operation will be exercised by the provincial laboratory and the department of bio-chemistry. Blood will be processed into plasma for use in Alberta and for shipment to other Red Cross centres. A total of 4,000 donors is sought.

Falling into the coal crusher at the cleaning plant of the West Canadian Collieries here on Friday last near noon, David Kemp, well known athlete, sustained injuries that necessitated the amputation of his left leg above the knee. Kemp was washery foreman, and fell off a ladder. Had he not succeeded in kicking a belt off the pulley, he undoubtedly would have met death. We understand he is doing favorably at the local hospital.

The editor dropped into a special afternoon service for the first time for many years. He listened to the service a while, then rushed to his office: "What are you fellows doing?" he shouted. "How about the news from the seat of war?" "What news?" asked one of the staff. "Why, all this about the Egyptian army being drowned in the Red Sea. The minister up at the church knows all about it, and you haven't got a single word of it in our paper. Rush around, you fellows, and get out an extra sheet!"

With the Alaska highway now in the first stages of construction, provincial government circles are bent on maintaining the campaign for the actual Mackenzie river route, which is considered best of all. The present route, it is obvious, is intended as a feeder and an auxiliary to the chain of airports which was constructed since the war began. That work on the project is considered urgent is evidenced by the great quantities of equipment now being rushed by rail to the end of steel. Economic aspects of the new route are considered of great importance to Alberta. The vast mineral resources of the north country will be brought within feeder distance of the main road, and development of these will in turn create markets for northern agricultural products. It is rumored that British capital will seek areas in the north for postwar development, and that this will attract population which will form the basis of a new industrial empire.

WASTE METALS WILL MAKE MORE MORE MORE

MORE steel is needed for more ships, more tanks, more planes, more guns, more munitions.

Canada right now is faced with a shortage of iron and steel. During the first nine months of 1940, Canada produced about 1,500,000 tons of steel ingots; during the first nine months of 1941, she produced more than 1,750,000 tons of steel ingots; during the first nine months of 1942, she MUST produce over 2,000,000 tons of steel ingots.

Steel is not made out of thin air. It is made out of iron ore, and pig iron, and scrap iron and steel. A mill that can turn out 200 tons in a given time using iron ore and pig iron can turn out 500 tons using pig iron and scrap metal.

THIS IS WHERE YOU CAN HELP!

Allies May Use Northern Front For Spring Drive

New York.—Cumulative military and political evidence indicates the imminence of highly important operations centering about the area between the desolate North Cape at the top of Norway and the cruel 1,000-foot granite cliffs of the Russian Murmansk coast.

Major air and naval operations already are under way, involving German capital ships, British torpedo planes undoubtedly operating from an aircraft carrier, other British warships and United Nations convoys.

Free Europe, a review of international affairs published in London, said an Allied spring offensive in the west should have a good chance of success, for the forces now concentrated in the British Isles presumably are stronger than those the Germans have disposed from Kirkenes, Norway, to Hendaye, France.

This commentary declared both military and political reasons commended Norway as a spot where the Allies could strike with overwhelming forces. It added that control of Upper Scandinavia would give the United Nations a convenient link with Russia through Finland and would put them in position to strike directly into the heart of Germany.

An offensive of the type Europe might well be the extra contribution to Russia's cause which the Soviet Union gives every evidence of expecting. There is plenty to win: a successful push could wipe Finland from the war, open and protect the whole Allied-Russian supply line via the excellent port of Murmansk and re-establish the Allies in Norway where they could organize and supply increasing resistance by the population.

A common British-Russian-American fighting front could be thrown quickly across the thin tip of Finland and this front in time might provide just the impetus the Russians need to turn the whole German northern flank and collapse it upon the Baltic States and East Prussia itself.

There are 1,500 miles of sea from the present U.S. bases in Northern Ireland to the North Cape, but it is barely 30 miles across the northeastern extremity of Norway to Russian territory, and only 50 miles farther east to Murmansk.

Eight hundred miles straight south of Murmansk, reachable almost directly by railway, is the Staraya Russa front where the Russians have pushed back closer to Germany than anywhere else. Staraya Russa is only 130 miles from Latvia and then it is just 400 miles to East Prussia.

Throughout the winter the world has almost forgotten about the Murmansk front and the Germans and Finns there have huddled somewhere about the city and on the Rybachy peninsula to the northwest, close enough, it appears, to make it necessary for Allied supplies to proceed on east to Archangel. The northern end of the Russian counter-offensive has, however, freed sections of the railway line running south to Leningrad and beyond.

Doing Everything Possible

Argentina Making Effort To Investigate Conditions In Hong Kong
Buenos Aires.—Foreign Minister Enrique Ruiz Guinazu conferred with the Japanese ambassador concerning Argentine efforts to investigate British complaints of ill treatment accorded war prisoners at Hong Kong, foreign office sources said.

Argentina, as the representative of Britain and Canada in the Far East, already has made representations to Tokyo and is seeking to have an Argentine observer designated as observer in Hong Kong.

Informed sources said Argentina had asked permission of Japan for a British ship to carry food and medical supplies to Hong Kong and Singapore.

Appeal Is Made For Increase Of Farm Products

Ottawa.—With legislation now before parliament implementing the Dominion government's agricultural policy, the combined forces of the federal and provincial agricultural departments move into a drive to assure the greatest farm production in Canada's history.

Speaking in a continent-wide broadcast, United States Secretary of Agriculture Wickard urged U.S. farmers this year to exceed even their record production of 1941 to meet the needs of the American people and the "estimated needs of our Allies." He said the requirements "have been broken down by states and counties and farms so that each farm family knows exactly what is expected of it in 1942."

Ranking agriculture officials here say it is impossible to have such a precise plan for the Canadian farmers. Much depends upon the weather, but they have the background of the 1941 production and this gives a pretty accurate idea of what can be possible, this year under ordinarily favorable crop conditions.

Meetings already have been held by federal officials with the various provincial authorities. The latter have returned to their provincial headquarters prepared to carry their campaigns for production to the farmers by advertising, radio and other media.

The major appeal is for all-out production of hogs to meet the agreement with the United Kingdom to provide 600,000,000 pounds of bacon and ham. The agreement, which started last autumn reaches the half way mark in two weeks and Canada by that time will have supplied 300,000,000 pounds in addition to providing the domestic requirements for pork products.

However, this half-year covers the periods when the run of hogs to the markets is always heavy so it will take a great effort to keep up this tremendous, unprecedented flow of bacon overseas during the last half.

In the past two months the three prairie provinces have supplied 65 per cent. of the hogs marketed, showing the big part the prairies are playing in enable Canada to make good on its bacon agreement.

Unequal Contest

Japanese Had Great Superiority In Naval Strength At Java

London.—A Japanese fleet of 14 cruisers, 58 destroyers, 25 submarines and five aircraft carriers was in Netherlands Indies waters when the small Dutch and American fleets were forced into battle to defend Java, Premier Peter Gerbrandy of the Netherlands government, said here.

The American and Indies fleet was less than one third the size of the Japanese armada protecting some 60 transports which was attacked in the Sea of Java, he said, but despite the unequal contest, the Japanese fleet suffered a severe blow.

The attack upon the line of transports, covered by submarines, failed, however, and an important part of the Allied fleet was lost.

"After vigorous defence for 12 days, the issue was decided. Against four-fold superiority on land and 10 fold in the air, the struggle became desperate," he said.

Gerbrandy said the defeat in the Indies for the Netherlands was "more serious because the occupation of the N.E.I. is much more destructive than it was in Europe."

Italy Expects Invasion

Possibilities Of United States-British Offensive Discussed In Newspapers
Stockholm, Sweden.—Italian newspapers are discussing the possibility of a United States-British offensive against Italy, the Rome correspondent of the Stockholm Tidningen reported.

The Allied plan, according to the Fascist press, is to gain control of the Mediterranean and pave the way for a direct assault on Germany. The correspondent said Italy is taking precautions against such a move.

FROM BRIGADIER TO TROOPER TO MAJOR

ALBERTA C.P.R. PLANT MAKES NAVAL GUNS

Sir Edward Beatty, G.B.E. (left) president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is seen inspecting one of the 12-pounder naval guns now being turned out by Ogden Shops at Calgary. The former railway shops are turning out complete assemblies, many of which have already been sent to seaboard for active service. With Sir Edward is J. L. Gubbins, works manager, and a mechanic who is putting the finishing touches to a gun barrel.

Brantford, Ont.—An unidentified motorist was credited with saving the lives of three persons near Tilsonburg, Ont., when he used his own car to push an overturned automobile containing the three from the path of an oncoming Wabash train on tracks intersecting a highway near here.

Mourning War Costs

Britain's Expenditure Of $14,500,000 Daily Has To Be Increased

London.—Introducing a supplementary vote of credit for £250,000,000 ($1,112,000,000) for war needs, Sir Kingsley Wood, chancellor of the exchequer, told the House of Commons that Britain's expenditures were 2½ times greater than two years ago.

He said expenditures for war needs are $14,500,000 daily and will show a further rise in the next few weeks.

The total government expenditure was approximately $88,500,000 weekly from votes of credit, of which the fighting services took $68,000,000 weekly—nearly $7,750,000 each day, he said.

"We have left far behind the highest amount of expenditure in the last war and our requirements continue to increase," he said.

To Mobilize Full Strength Of Axis For Spring Drive

Berlin.—Germany's mobilization of the entire Axis manpower for a gigantic spring offensive now is in full swing, reports reaching Berlin from various parts of Europe indicate.

In Germany itself almost all men able to carry arms are already in the army, but the recent visit of Field Marshal Keitel to Hungary and Slovakia is beginning to bear results in the form of approximately 1,500,000 fresh troops.

Up to the present these two allies had supplied only a handful of soldiers for the Russian campaign. Slovakia had furnished about 27,000 and Hungary not more than one or two divisions.

In Hungary, notices have just been posted mobilizing all men up to 46 years of age.

Slovakia, with a population of 3,500,000, has been told she must furnish 100,000 men.

Italy has been called upon to deliver many more troops than she has yet sent to the eastern front, and these as quickly as possible. Some reports mention a figure of 1,000,000 but this is unverified.

Rumania already has about 1,000,000 men in the field, her maximum capacity. It is not known whether Bulgaria will declare war on Russia and send forces to aid in the campaign.

Men of German blood are being mobilized in the occupied countries. All Germans between 20 and 42 in the German-occupied province of French Lorraine have been ordered to register before March 21. German leaders in Yugoslavia have ordered all Germans fit for military service to register.

There were about 500,000 Germans in Yugoslavia before the occupation, but many of those in Croatia have already been mobilized.

Warned By Japan

Australia Told That Any Resistance Will End In Disaster

Tokyo.—An assertion that Australia will suffer the fate of the Netherlands East Indies if she "continues her present attitude toward Japan" was sounded by a spokesman for the Japanese information board. Domel quoted the spokesman as saying "continued resistance will result in nothing but disaster and suffering for the Australian people such as has just been experienced by the Netherlands East Indies."

"The best and only way for Australia to take," the spokesman said, "was shown by Premier Tojo Jan. 21 at a meeting of the diet when he declared 'if the Australian people continued their present attitude of resisting Japan we will show no mercy in crushing them but if they come to understand Japan's real intentions and express willingness to co-operate with Japan we will not hesitate to extend our help with real understanding for their welfare and progress.'"

Should the Australians ignore this advice, the spokesman added "the same fate that has befallen Singapore and Java awaits them. They should beware the handwriting on the wall."

Speeding Aid To Russia

Washington.—Germany's approaching spring offensive has prompted Washington to speed all possible assistance to Russia. It is learned that federal agencies have received orders to expedite the manufacture and shipment of all supplies intended for the Soviet. In this way, the government hopes to make up for the shipping lag that began after the United States entered the war.

Prince Rupert May Be Supply Base For Alaska

Ottawa.—Qualified Ottawa sources indicate that the port of Prince Rupert on the west coast will become an important supply base for the defence of Alaska against the serious possibility of Jap attack.

Public attention has been focussed for the past few days on the decision to begin construction of the Alaska highway as a defence measure. However, experts in Ottawa and Washington have regarded Prince Rupert as the outlet through which will pour men, foodstuffs, and munitions to Alaska.

The use of Prince Rupert as a main supply base would involve ocean transport. But troop and munitions ships would be subject to danger of submarine attack for less than half the trip to Alaska. Sources in Ottawa say the submarines could operate in only about 400 miles of the water involved.

The Ottawa sources say soldiers and equipment transported by the route will be disembarked at an unspecified Alaskan port. From this point they will be transported to Fairbanks, Alaska, by rail.

Troop transports could slip out of the large and well-equipped harbor of Prince Rupert and ease along the British Columbia coast behind a protecting screen of islands. These islands are situated in waters where it would be impossible for submarines to operate.

Ottawa sources offer three reasons for the importance of Prince Rupert as a base. They are:

1. The Alaska road, even if completed this year, will be only a "pioneer" highway, capable of carrying only about 10 to 15 per cent. of the volume of a normal highway. Sufficient supplies to equip Alaskan defenses could not be moved across it—or so these quarters say.
2. Alternative ports—Seattle and Vancouver—are 750 miles farther by sea from Alaska and most of the additional distance is exposed to submarines.
3. Prince Rupert already possesses adequate port facilities for the traffic and has good rail connections.

Synthetic Rubber Plant

Government Owned Corporation To Produce Rubber In Canada

Ottawa.—Munitions Minister Howe announced that a government-owned corporation known as Polymer Corporation Ltd. is being established to produce synthetic rubber in Canada.

President of the new company will be Col. Arthur L. Bishop, Toronto industrialist, and the company will have its headquarters in Toronto.

"Work is already under way on the preliminary plans and specifications of certain of the plants that will be needed," Mr. Howe said in a statement. "It is expected that production will begin before the end of 1943, and that when the plants are working to capacity their output will be about 34,000 long tons per year."

The minister said the synthetic production will not relieve the shortage of rubber as the civilian is concerned. "Every ounce of the synthetic rubber will be earmarked for war purposes," he said. "This means, of course, that the civilian will have to do without rubber of any kind for all but absolutely essential needs, and in any event, will have to get along with reclaimed rubber wherever possible."

Receive George Medal

Ban On White Bread

London.—White bread is to disappear gradually from British tables and a national wheat meal or dark bread is to take its place. Food Minister Lord Woolton announced in the house of lords. Bakers will be allowed to continue making white bread until April 6. The action was taken to conserve shipping space.

Plans For Australia

Toronto.—The national executive committee of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, decided at a meeting here to give a Hurricane fighter plane costing $50,000 to Australia. The order raised $100,000 to buy a bomber plane for Britain in three weeks a year ago.

Senate Leader Dies

Rt. Hon. Dandurand Occupied Place In Canadian Politics For Almost Half A Century

Ottawa.—Rt. Hon. Raoul Dandurand, government leader in the senate and close associate of Prime Minister Mackenzie King for more than 20 years, died here in hospital.

Mr. King was deeply affected by the loss of his constant colleague since 1919. When the prime minister chose his first cabinet in 1921, Senator Dandurand was the first minister sworn in. Except for Mr. King himself he was the last surviving member of that administration.

Senator Dandurand was senior member of the senate, and last surviving senator appointed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He was summoned to the upper house in 1898.

It was not considered that Senator Dandurand's condition was serious, despite his advanced years, for he had been active as usual since the new parliamentary session began in affairs of the upper chamber. For almost half a century he had held a prominent place in Canadian politics.
